

USING ORGANIC LIGHT EMITTING DIODES (OLEDs) IN LANDSCAPE LIGHTING APPLICATIONS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A landscape lighting assembly and directional lighting arrangement uses an organic light emitting diode (OLED) light source. The low cost and low power required to operate the OLEDs offer many features and benefits over prior arrangements. In addition, it provides high light output and desired spectral efficiencies, along with an extended life.